WHAT KANSAS HAS DONE.

In Speaking of The Good Statewide Prohibition Has Done Harry McChesney Said.

I have given these few illustrations to show how the leaders of other nations regard this question. Let me add a few statements from eminent citizens of this country. In a speech in Chicago on March 31st. John P. St. John, former Governor of Kansas, said: "Thirty-five years ago our state was part of what was known as the wild, woolly West. It was full of saloons, gambling dens and other evil resorts. Today, after thirty-four years of prohibition, there is not a common drunkard in 96 of the 105 counties of the State." I have in my possession a letter from the Hon. J. T. Botkin, Secretary of State of Kansas, enclosing a copy of a letter he had written to N. B. Raymond, of Rochester, N. Y., under date of March 11, 1915, in which he says among other things, the following:

That under prohibition the annual expenditure for liquor in Kansas is only $1.25 per capita, as against $21.00, the average for the United States;

That illiteracy in Kansas has been reduced to two per cent., the lowest in the United States;

That there were 48 counties out of 105 in the State that did not send a prisoner to the penitentiary last year, and that 87 counties did not send a patient to the asylum during the year.

That more than a dozen Kansas counties have not called a jury in ten years to try a criminal case;

That 53 counties were without prisoners in their jails and 28 without paupers in their almshouses last year;

That the Kansas death rate is the lowest in the world: 7.1-2 for each 1000 persons;

That there are more students in the Kansas colleges and universities in proportion to population than any other state in the Union;

That bank deposits have doubled in the last ten years;

That the per capita of wealth in Kansas is the greatest of any state in the Union, being approximately $1,703 for every man woman and child in the State.

GOOD FOR PROVIDENCE

Citizens Jubilant Over Knowledge That They Will Get Water in Abundance in Pipes.

Tradewater river has been harnessed to the city of Providence and its water is now flowing in an underground current all over the city.

The Providence Water and Utilities company company completed all connections to the ice plant and settling basin Tuesday, the latter having been filled with water and by Wednesday night the water was flowing through the fire hydrants. Every thing is working like a charm and our citizens are rejoicing at the knowledge that their property is no longer at the mercy of the fire demon and that hereafter they will be enabled to get an unlimited supply of good pure water for all purposes.

The standpipe on Big Hill cemetery will be completed today or tomorrow, after which it will be kept filled with water.

The new 15 ton ice plant is also about completed and the manufacture of ice will be started at once.—Providence Enterprise.

Marion High School defeated Corydon High School in Base Ball last Friday and Saturday. Marion won Friday by the score of 5 to 0, and Saturday 8 to 0, thereby winning the championship of the Central Interscholastic Association.

The boys played the best ball they have played this season. "Flossie" Wheeler struck out twenty men the first day and "Slick" Frazer struck out ten Saturday allowing only two hits during the entire game. Marion has played seven games this season and won six of them, giving them a percentage of .858.

FARMER'S CLUB MEETINGS.

Boys of The Corn Club Please Take Notice And Be On Hand.

May 27.—Copperas Springs.
May 28.—Midway.
June 1.—Tolu
June 4.—Oak Hall

Boys of the corn club please take notice of the meetings and be on hand. At Oak Hall we expect to have something special for the boys. I have not received all the membership cards from the boys and would appreciate their early return.

We have begun work on the prize lists of the Crittenden county Boy's corn and pig clubs, to be given at the Fall Show. All join in and help make this the best in the State. Those wishing to contribute see Mr. George Crider or Mr. Trice Bennett.

From other papers throughout the country I see where the business men and farmers are joining hands and offering big inducements to the boys who try. Here are a few things offered in another county as prizes: Gold watches, registered hogs, plows, cultivators, subscriptions to farm papers. These were included in the 26 prizes offered in that one county.

Prizes are to be divided into classes: ten or more for the best ten ears of corn, five for the best history written by the boy on his crop, five on the largest yield at the least expense; best kept record and for the best single ear. Pig club prizes will be awarded accordingly. The State holds the Corn Club prize list with an offer of a weeks visit to the State Fair to one boy from this county. We will appreciate your help. J. Robert Bird, Agt. Marion, Ky.

Heard At The Suffragette Meeting

Is it true that President Roosevelt has declared war on Italy because the Black Hand sunk a steamboat near Ford's Ferry? Oh! I didn't see that in the "Press," I never read any other newspaper.

What Does Holland Mean Buying War Munitions In U. S?

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—With the arrival of H. Ter Poorten, aviator lieutenant of the Dutch army, it became known today that Holland had contracted for the construction here of two hydro-aeroplanes to be finished not later than July 15. Each machine will have a 42 foot wingspread and a carrying capacity of 1000 pounds. Lieut. Ter Poorten, who is attached to the Dutch East Indian Service, said Holland was developing an army of 40,000 men in her colonial possessions and planning for the organization of a militia of 450,000 men.

The lieutenant said officers of the Holland Indian forces have been in this country several months, buying shells, cartridges, machine guns, copper and other munitions of war.

AN INTERESTING PAPER READ

At The Crittenden County Equal Suffrage League Meeting Saturday, May 15th, 1915.

Do you happen to know how the women of Colorado obtained their vote?

About the time that equal suffrage was pending in Colorado, there came out from the east a young couple in search of health for the husband. The wife nursed him and cared for him, meanwhile working to earn their living and pay the expenses of his hospital and doctors bills. But in spite of her sacrifice, the man died. Three months later in a Denver hospital the woman gave birth to a little baby. When this child was only eleven days old, and the mother still lay weak and ill, the husband's parents came from the east and took her baby away. The mother protested, begged and pleaded for the child. She told them she would soon be well and able to support and care for it. But she was told that her husband, before his death, had willed his unborn baby to his own people, and not to the wife who had sacrificed so much for his sake. The young mother appealed to the law to recover her child, but, to her horror, she learned that a father had a legal right to will away his unborn child.

The following year a woman came into the suffrage headquarters and told her story.

Her husband had died, leaving her with three small children and a large fortune. The court decided the fortune was too large for a woman to manage and ordered a guardian appointed. Soon after the mother took the children to Philadelphia and put them in a school there, but the guardian ordered the oldest daughter, a girl of sixteen, to return to his home in the west. The mother sent letters and telegrams of protest, but the law gave the guardian, not the mother, the right to choose a home for her child, and the girl was compelled to return west. The other daughter lay very ill and the mother was detained in Philadelphia at her bedside. As soon as she was able to leave she went west, only to find that her sixteen-year-old daughter had been forced into a marriage with her guardian's son. As the law gave the husband, not the wife, the right over her own fortune, all of this girl's wealth fell into the hands of this unscrupulous man.

The cry of the outrage that went up, over these two instances of legal injustice, did much to enfranchise the women of Colorado, and after the enfranchisement no bill was ever so speedily passed as that which made the women of Colorado co-equal guardians of their children.

Preaching At Dunn's Springs.

Rev. R. Robinson will preach at Dunn's Springs next Sunday, May 30, at 11 o'clock. Brother Robinson will be welcomed back to his old church once more.

The church regrets to know of the long sickness of their beloved pastor, Brother Gibbs. We hope the Lord will spare him to us, for we shall never forget his kind words and wonderful sermons at this place.

WILSON THE PILOT

His Motto: "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me." Must Have Been Chosen Of Heaven.

The time is at hand but not without hope we may attempt this. The American Chief Magistrate seems one chosen of Heaven to achieve it. Elsewise how came such a man to be drawn from the seclusion of learning, religion and philosophies and elected president of the United States? Since the crucifixion of Christ the world has faced no such moral crisis. As God raised up Washington to create the Republic and Lincoln to save the Union, may he not have raised up Woodrow Wilson to rescue our Christianity and our civilization from the jaws of death wide open and ready to swallow them?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

While not disposed to indulge in any unusual degree of hero worship, and certainly in no wise assuming to speak from the sacred basis of political gain, the News-Democrat, in noting the character of a strong man so openly manifested by President Wilson, in times of real test, such as have come to him often throughout his administration, sanctions most heartily the above expression given by the able editor of the Courier-Journal. If there is one man in this land today able to meet any crisis that the nation may be forced to face, calmly, manfully and above all, wisely and courageously, that man is Woodrow Wilson.

His recent state papers have been both gems of rhetorical expression as well as masterpieces of calm, dignified adherence to all those principles this nation and its people stand for. Whatever the strength of the storm that may break about the old ship and however beset with shoals of disaster the course, there is a blessing indeed in the assurance that the pilot, guided by strength of character and nobility of purpose, will be fully able to guide the ship aright.—Paducah News Democrat.

Roosevelt Wins—Jury Holds Libel Is True.

Syracuse, May 24.—The jury in the Barnes libel case today returned a verdict for Roosevelt, but were unable to agree on the costs and were sent back to determine that feature. Roosevelt refused to comment on the verdict.

The verdict is illegal until the cost feature is adjusted. The law lays the burden on the loser, but it is understood the jury would split the costs.

D. W. STONE MEDICINE CO., Marion, Kentucky.

Endorses Representative Stone.

The announcement of Representative Edward D. Stone for re-election to the state Legislature, should be pleasing to the people of his district.

As a colleague of Representative Stone, in the last session of the Kentucky Legislature, I can say that in my opinion he ranked as one of the honest and faithful members of that body, in trying to protect the interests of the masses of the people, opposing any increase of offices, enlarging of salaries, and appropriations.

He stood with the common people, and worked for their welfare. He stood like a stone wall against any increase of tax on the people, earnestly supporting every measure that was in the interest of the people, and as earnestly opposing every measure that was not in their interests. His first struggle, and the first vote he cast was in opposition to the Extra Help. He was every day of the session at his post of duty.

Such a man as Representative Stone is very valuable in the state legislature, and he will prove himself more so if again elected to that honorable body.

The people of the 7th District should not hesitate to re-elect Hon. Edward D. Stone, because of his ability, and his standing for the interest of his constituents, showing them by his words that he felt himself to be a servant of the people, elected to safeguard their interests.

YOUR HEALTH

Don't Endanger It With Calomel.

It is generally agreed by experts in this country and Europe that calomel has a very violent effect on the system. This accounts for the familiar disagreeable feeling accompanying a dose, and the weakened condition following it. L.I.V.-VER-LAX is a harmless vegetable compound, that is a mild, but effective substitute for calomel. It has all the effectiveness, but not the effect, of calomel. Its splendid value has brought it into such wide use that in some states it has almost entirely replaced calomel.

Just try L.I.V.-VER-LAX once, and you'll never use calomel again. Insist on the genuine, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby, which is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. For sale by Haynes & Taylor, Marion, Ky.

A Bunch Of "Dead Oaes."

The Cincinnati Enquirer says that prominent on the stage when Stanley opened his campaign at Frankfort were former Prison Commissioner Eli Brown and Henry B. Hines, with S. W. Hager, present as Stanley's campaign manager. Henry Hines managed Hager's losing campaign for Governor, 1907, and Eli Brown became so "prominent" while Prison Commissioner that the Legislature took his job away from him. If ever there was a bunch of "dead ones" behind a candidate, Stanley has certainly coralled them in this trio. But then Stanley, fighting the battle of the liquor interests, in his race for Governor, is killing himself so rapidly, that it is perhaps meet that the corpses all be gathered together in Kentucky's political morgue. —Interior-Journal, Stanford.

IN MEXICO

Statements of Mexico Citizens Are Always of Interest to Our Readers.

To many of our readers the streets of Mexico are almost as familiar as those of our own town, and we are naturally interested to read of happenings there. The following report from a well-known and respected resident will be helpful to numbers of men and women here in Marion.

J. O. Tabor, Mexico, Ky., says: "I had kidney trouble for about six years. The pains in my back were severe at times and when I was stooping or lifting, sharp twinges went through my loins. My back always ached more intensely at night and in the morning. I felt very lame. I tired easily, was languid and nervous and had headaches. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and caused me annoyance. I took one and a half boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they rid me of the trouble. I am now in good health."

PEORIA WOMAN TELLS EXPERIENCE

Mrs. W. L. McClellan, of Peoria, suffered torture from indigestion, gas, belching and other symptoms of stomach trouble. She spent large sums of money for doctors' advice and medicine. Still her condition did not improve. She found relief, wonderful, surprising relief in a drug store window. This is her story, as she tells it: "I suffered so from distention and colicky pains that at times I was completely incapacitated for my household work. I saw a window display of Mary's Wonderful Remedy and decided to purchase a bottle, which I did. I have taken only one bottle and the results have been really wonderful. I have not had a pain in my stomach since, and let me say that for the first time in many, many months, two days following I have had a natural movement of the bowels. I feel I cannot say enough for the remarkable virtues of your remedy."

Mary's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Not as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your Druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

Wives Must "Make Good" As Well As Husbands

In the June Woman's Home Companion appears an interesting little article entitled "The Wife Who Believes in Her Husband," an extract from which follows:

"The husband has a right, which is not unreasonable, to expect his wife to understand the business of domesticity as he understands the business of money-making. Yet how often one hears the absolutely ineffective wife approaching her husband for his lack of business success, not knowing that she, too, has failed in her woman's business of thrift and cozy comfort.

"There are hundreds of men earning good incomes who haven't a single well-arranged and comfortable corner where their racked twentieth century nerves may find rest. The wife who believes in her husband will, however, realize that, if he is to fight the battles of the modern wage-earning world, the restful atmosphere with which she surrounds him, the food with which she serves him, may make all the difference between defeat and success." And the wife who can supply these, without bankrupting her husband to do it, is the wife who is worth while.

Look at Me. I am Well.

"I cannot say too much for Peruna. It has entirely cured me of my trouble. My eye lids were thick and red nearly all the time. My eyes were especially sensitive to light. Catarh was my trouble. I had had my eyes treated and took a great deal of medicine, but nothing seemed to help me until I tried Peruna. I always use Peruna when my family need it. Always find it very good; it helps wonderfully. You can use my testimonial anywhere you wish to." So says Mrs. C. Skeban, No. 616 N. Leavitt St., Chicago, Ill.

Who's To Be The Judge?

In an editorial last week opposing state-wide, the editor of the Uniontown Telegram says:

"The editor of The Telegram opposes the state-wide prohibition question now, not in the interest of any candidate, but solely because the people do not want it at present."

And this is about the same argument practically all the papers of the state, that are opposing state-wide are making. But stop just a minute, brother, and let's see about this question. Who's to be the judge upon this question—you, or the people themselves? You say "they don't want it," but how do you know they don't? You've never given them a chance to say whether they do or not. Why not let the people decide this question for themselves in place of you and a few other newspapers and politicians deciding it for them? For with 106 counties now dry it looks like at least a few of them have inclinations in that direction.

Now, Editor Green, let's be fair about this question and see whose right. The Record has been fighting for prohibition in any form for the past ten years or more, and personally we are in favor of state-wide, but what we are contending for now is for a set of state officials and a Legislature that will give the people a chance to decide this important question for themselves, and not allow a few newspapers and politicians to say "what the people want and what they don't want."

The fundamental principle of Democracy is that "the people shall rule," and when you or any set of men undertake to decide "what the people want" you strike at the very foundation rock of Democracy.—Caliz Record.

Extract From H. V. McChesney's Speech At Bowling Green.

It is to be deplored that the liquor interests and their candidates have sought to embarrass President Wilson, by publishing in Kentucky his letter written four years ago endorsing local option in New Jersey, there having been no law prior to that time fixing any unit as the basis for a vote; and Governor Wilson was thoroughly in line with the leaders of the temperance forces in his State. The liquor papers have taken great delight in publishing this letter, in an effort to make the people believe that President Wilson is not in sympathy with the state-wide movement in Kentucky, and even not in sympathy with the County Unit Law.

These same papers have persistently refused to publish another letter written by Governor Wilson two months later in the same year to a Mr. Groan, in Texas, in which he said:

"I have no reason to doubt from what I know of the circumstances that State-wide prohibition is both practicable and desirable in Texas." The temperance forces in Kentucky felt that the President already had a greater burden on his shoulders than any one man ought to have to bear, and so refrained from even quoting the Texas letter, until the liquor interests published the New Jersey letter in a desperate effort to stem the rising tide in favor of the submission of a State-wide amendment. While the liquor press refused to print the Texas letter. Many of the newspapers of the

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN—IT'S YOU.

The following little poem has been going the rounds of the press for some time, and contains so very much truth that we are pleased to give it space, not knowing the author to whom we would gladly give it credit:

If you want to live in the kind of a town

Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind.

For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.

It isn't the town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by the men afraid

Least somebody else get ahead. When everybody works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake

Your neighbors can make one, too,

Your town will be what you want to see.

It isn't the town—it's you.

LUCK-PLUCK.

"I wish you good luck," is no word to say:

"I wish you good pluck," is better.

For pluck means more in every way Than just an additional letter.

It is good to believe in your luck, I know,

It is bad to be thought unlucky; But the best of luck for as folk below

Is the habit of being plucky.

You can turn your luck,—if you have the pluck—

You can conquer the ill that shakes it:

So I will not stop at a wish for luck.

But here's to your pluck that makes it!

Why Not Make Horticulture

A Success in Crittenden?

Toppenish, Wash. May 11.—J. R. Bird, Esq., Marion, Ky. Dear sir: I see in my Press that came last night, you were to organize a fruit growers association in Marion yesterday.

If the people of Crittenden county could see that business as I see it now, and as all the fruit growers in the West see it, you would organize one of the finest associations there, in the State of Kentucky.

The Western fruit grower is in the hands of you people and you have the long end of the rope on them. You are at the market and he is starving.

I am in the center of the great apple belt, of Washington and if the grower here doesn't get a better price this year, away goes a big per cent of the orchards here. Lots haven't been able to live and pay their taxes for the past three years, for there was no market here for all their apples. The prices the dealer offers when you figure the freight from here to the market there, you can see where the profit goes.

I was also very much surprised to see the size of the apples here, they do not average up with the Ky., apple on old trees by any means. The fine large apples we see come back there are grown on the younger orchards, and if the orchards there had one-half the attention they have to get here, you would be away ahead.

This is a great grain and hay country and it pays better than fruits, so there is where it is drifting as fast as it can go. I have seen acres and acres of orchards that were grubbed out this year.

As a comparison, I get fine apples delivered in my house here at 40 cents per bushel, now see what you pay.

I hope you will succeed in organizing and it will be three years before I can join you, but I will keep you posted as to the condition of stuff in the West. There is about one-fourth of a crop of apples here this year.

I have been in the orchard belts of Wash. and Oregon.

Yours respectfully,

W. L. Adams,

Zillah, Wash.

PROMINENT MEN

NOW USE TANLAC

Mayors, County And Circuit Court
Judges Obtain Famous Medicine.

Lexington, May 26.—I have sold Tanlac, since the beginning of its introduction in Lexington, to the mayors of a number of cities, county judges, circuit judges, and to many of the most prominent business and professional men in Kentucky," says Wm. E. Stagg, the Lexington druggist.

"The demand for the preparation has been phenomenal. In all of my twenty years' experience in the drug business I have never seen anything that equal it.

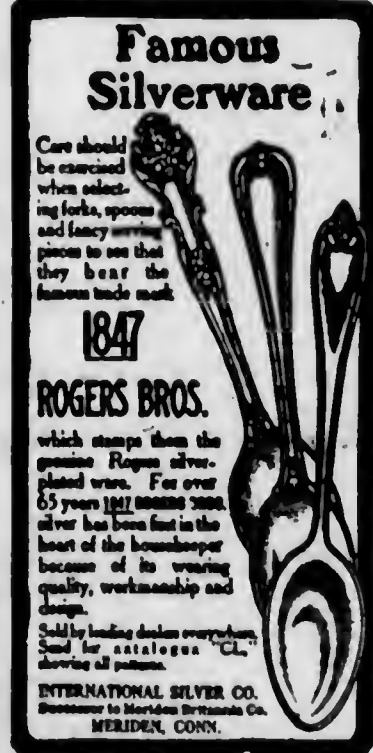

"In addition to the Lexington demand, Tanlac has been shipped from my store to Kansas City, Mo.; Colorado Springs, Col.; Denver, Col.; Memphis, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss.; Bonilla, S. D.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Louisville, Ky.; Tiffin, Ohio; Cincinnati, Ohio; Columbia, S. C.; Palm Beach, Fla.; Phoenix, Arizona; Los Angeles, Cal., and many other points throughout the country that are too numerous to mention. You may rest assured that every city in Kentucky has, too, heard of Tanlac.

"I can only account for the great demand for this preparation by the fact that it is a good medicine. That is proven by the numerous statements from those who have tested the medicine in cases of catarrhal affections, of stomach, liver and kidney complaints, and are now convinced of its excellent merits. The public has not been slow to appreciate the Tanlac merit.

"Practically $15,000 worth of Tanlac has been sold and distributed through my store within the past seventy days. Such a demand is most certainly unprecedented.

"I take pleasure in commending Mr. Cooper and his very excellent preparation."

Tanlac, the preparation referred to, is now sold in Marion only by J. H. Orme; and at A. T. Brown's store in Blackford.

"I feel it my duty to write you and testify to merits of your wonderful medicine, RHEUMA. Last March I was so crippled with Neuritis in my left limb that I could scarcely walk at all. I had used twelve different remedies and had two other treatments, but nothing did me any good until I began using RHEUMA. Livingston to The Front.

This is "Old Livingston county's" time to show the State that she has produced a man big enough to be Governor of this "Grand Old Commonwealth" in the person of H. V. McChesney. That is not all. There is not a man in all this state who is a truer democrat, and withal, a christian gentleman. When he says he is for "State-wide prohibition" he means just what he says and through life practiced personal abstinence. Practically every man, woman and child in Livingston county knows Harry McChesney and know him to be a true man and a friend to the people. He held office here, lived here, married here and loves our good people still. Let us honor ourselves by honoring him by placing him at the head of the state government. Livingston Enterprise.

CHARGE OF FRAUD

Made Against Woman At Glasgow, Kentucky.

Glasgow, Ky., May 25.—A woman, claiming to represent a well known book company, and giving her name as Mrs. Wheeler, and her home at New Albany Ind., came to Glasgow some time ago and had many persons interested in the establishment of a library for the city of Glasgow. A large number, it is said, contributed to the fund, and the woman went to another county for the purpose of organizing a library, and was to later come back. The appointed time came around and the woman did not show up. Those who had assisted in the work became suspicious and the book company was written to asking about its agent. The reply stated that it did not know Mrs. Wheeler. An investigation revealed the fact that she had visited several of the adjoining counties and had done the same thing. The United States officers were appealed to and they took the matter up and located the woman, and the citizens of Adair, Metcalfe, Monroe and Warren were this week notified to appear in the Federal court at Bowling Green to testify against her.

state did publish it, and so the public now knows the President's views on the question. The publication of the Texas letter frustrated the plan of the liquor people in their effort to deceive the public as to the President's views on the subject. In this dilemma, Mr. Haldeman, editor of the Louisville Times, wrote President Wilson a thinly disguised appeal for help, asking him to make a statement as to his "general attitude" on the temperance question. The President's reply, which has been published in practically every paper in the State, is written with his usual frankness. He simply stands pat on both the New Jersey and the Texas letter.

This reply of the President's was a body blow to the liquor forces and their candidates. They would have suppressed it, as they have done the Texas letter, if they had dared to do so; but the fact that Mr. Haldeman had written the President leaked out, and they were forced to publish the correspondence. They attempted to weaken the force of the blow by running misleading headlines over the article; but the reading public has long been wise to this scheme, and it did not work.

In this predicament the liquor interests had to make a new move. The next step was to find some one willing to misquote the President. This was not a difficult task, and in a few days there appeared in the Courier-Journal an extract from a speech made in Eastern Kentucky by a liquor candidate for Governor, in which he was quoted as saying (referring to the President's letter to Mr. Haldeman): "For that reason he (the President) has again re-asserted his earnest hope that the Democrats of Kentucky will not allow themselves to be divided into hostile camps over the liquor question." It will be seen that the liquor candidate deliberately misquoted the President. There was not a word in the letter to Mr. Haldeman about Kentucky, or the Democratic party, or the present state-wide movement in Kentucky. That the public may read the letter in connection with this liquor candidate's version of it, I quote it in full:

"My Dear Mr. Haldeman:
"I have your letter of May 5, and must apologize for not having replied to it sooner. I am sure that you will understand the pressure of circumstances I have been under.
"The reply to your letter is very simple. My so-called Shannon letter precisely defines my position with regard to the liquor issue, not only as it was when I wrote the letter, but as it is now, and the letter to Mr. Grogan is, or was, at any rate, intended to be entirely consistent with it. What I intended to say to Mr. Grogan, and think that I said with sufficient clearness was that, while the position I had taken in the Shannon letter expressed my fixed convictions in the matter, I was not self-confident or self-opinionated enough to what the proper course of action was, either in Texas or any other State where I was not personally in touch with the condition obtaining. I felt that it would be arrogant on my part to state that there were in my opinion no circumstances which justified an agitation for State-wide prohibition.
"I am sure that you yourself felt that there was no inconsistency between the two letters, and I am sincerely obliged to you for having afforded me the opportunity to make this very explicit.

"Cordially and sincerely yours, Woodrow Wilson."

When the President doesn't write to suit the liquor forces and liquor candidates in Kentucky, they proceed to alter his language to meet their needs, and the Courier-Journal promptly publishes the new version. I have called attention to this that the Democracy of the State may see to what methods the liquor interests will resort in an effort to stem the rising tide against them.

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION

accompanied by pain here or there—extreme nervousness—sleeplessness—may be faint spells—or spasms—all are signs of distress for a woman. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood—passing from womanhood to motherhood—or later suffering from last change into middle life which leaves so many wrecks of women. for prohibition. They have attacked the enemy in the liquor traffic strongholds of Louisville, Lexington, Covington, Newport and Frankfort. In a three days campaign in each city, with addresses by some of the leading platform speakers of America. The State Journal of Frankfort, quotes the following from the address of Dr. Carolyn Geisel, physician-surgeon of Battle Creek Sanitarium, one of the Squadron speakers:—May 12, '15
"It is a woman's business to raise men. The saloon interferes with her business. Has the Government the right to license the manufacture and sale of a poison that ruins this business?"

"America doesn't need more lands, more mines, more minerals or more money—she needs more men, and the American home can produce men when the business of the American mother is protected by the American Government."

"We can no more raise sound men in wet territory than you can raise sound swine in an unsanitary pig sty."

Alcohol is not necessary as medicine. The medical institution with which I have the honor to be connected treats an average of 800 patients a day, has an international reputation for incurables, and has never used one ounce of alcohol as medicine in the forty-eight years of its existence.

"At least fifty per cent of all forms of race degeneracy in America will be wiped out by nation-wide prohibition."

"Sixty years since America began her partnership with alcohol and in that half century insanity, imbecility and crime have increased by 500 per cent, 62 per cent out of every 100 persons in the penitentiaries of the United States are there on the account of drink in the first, second or third generation."

"You think a man pays for a glass of beer when he passes his nickel over the bar. He does not. His baby pays. The law of inheritance is inexorable. The baby is what the father was. If a man destroys his brain by alcohol, if his body wastes and degenerates through drink, his children and his children's children will have dwarfed minds and degenerate bodies. Kill the saloon and save the baby."

RACE DEGENERACY

"Drink makes the lowest element of society, but it does not always begin there. It begins appallingly frequently with the highest."

"We have reached the third stage of race degeneration. Out of every two persons born into the world, one dies before reaching maturity. Remove the cause and save the nation."

"Seventy-two out of every hundred babies born in Munich, the greatest beer drinking city in the world, are unsound. America has far too many cities that are close seconds to Munich, in the beer drinking question. In prohibition Maine 71 per cent of the babies born are sound. 'Environment is Destiny!'

"The drunkard can not get a 'job' even as a barkeeper to dispen-that finished him. "The drunkard can not get his life insured even to keep his credit good at the saloon."

"Forty per cent of arteriosclerosis is produced by alcohol and is not curable. Sixty-two per cent of Bright's disease is produced by alcohol and is no curable. Ninety-two per cent of cancer of the stomach is produced by alcohol. Cancer of the stomach is not curable."

"The saloon is defeating woman's business by cursing the unborn. The saloon is destroying the American home by defiling the American man. The American voter is called the defender of the American home. Only called that often. When he votes to license the saloon he is the destroyer of the home."

PHYSICAL ADVISER OF PRESIDENT TAFT TO LECTURE AT OUR CHAUTAUQUA ON "HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS"

Important Health Exercises Will Be Demonstrated by Dr. Barker During His Afternoon Lecture—Exercises Which Any One Can Follow at Home

EVERY one is of course, interested in learning how to live 100 years. The fact that a lecture on this subject by a prominent authority as Dr. Charles E. Barker, who was physical adviser to President Taft during his administration, is to be given at Chautauqua week is of great importance.

At the morning session on the third day Dr. Barker will give his lecture entitled "Health and Happiness," and in the afternoon his subject will be, as stated above, "How to Live 100 Years." At this afternoon lecture Dr. Barker will give demonstrations of physical exercises which every one can practice at home. He will also outline a plan of diet which should be followed by business men in offices and others who are not performing hard manual labor.

It was Dr. Barker who, by his system of physical exercises and plan of diet, reduced President Taft's weight some eighty-five pounds. The exercises which Dr. Barker will demonstrate, however, are not necessarily to reduce flesh, but are just as essential to the man or woman of average weight.

Aside from President Taft, many other prominent men in national life have followed Dr. Barker's plan for health. He stands in the forefront of teachers, orators and exemplars of the gospel of health and happiness. He has lectured widely under the auspices of the physical training department of the national committee of the Y. M. C. A., and his work has been widely commented upon both in the editorial and news columns of our largest city newspapers. One of the Springfield (Mass.) papers during his recent week's lecture engagements in that city published daily articles on health from Dr. Barker's pen. Dr. Barker will be glad to answer all questions along the lines in which he is specializing. It is safe to prophesy that "health day" at the Chautauqua will have excellent results in every one of the 120 cities in which Dr. Barker is to appear.

But there are some who would tell you that the woman's "silent influence" could secure these same rights for her, indirectly, without the use of the ballot. But let me tell you that it took the women of Massachusetts, without the ballot, 55 years of effort and six murders to secure the co-equal guardianship law, which the women of Colorado, with the ballot, secured in 55 days.

How much more do legislators heed the voice of a constituent than that of a "mere woman."

Many such instances of legal injustice to women exist in all states where women have not the right to vote for the men who make the laws. The co-equal guardianship law exists now in fourteen states, eleven of which are suffrage states—in all other states the father is the preferred guardian; in 27 states the mother has no equal right to her children so long as the father lives; in 6 states the father may will away his unborn child. In most states the woman has no property rights and the husband may even draw the wife's wages, which, she by her toil, has certainly justly earned. When a man dies, leaving no descendants, but survived by a father, a mother or brothers and sisters the wife receives only one-half of his property, but if the wife dies the husband is entitled to all of her estate.

Women have long been pleading against the evils that result from the liquor traffic, for it is to the wife that comes the pain of a drunken husband.

There are nine million women laboring in our great American industries today, underpaid and overworked, in conditions foul and unsanitary—many of which could be regulated by proper legislation, but who is to represent the woman's side in our state legislatures? The recent passage of a bill, by the legislature of New York, to permit the working of women in canning factories eighteen hours a day is an example of the defenselessness of women without the ballot, and a striking contrast to the early death which met a similar bill in Colorado, where a woman senator fought the bill, saying, "It is not for the perishable fruits I plead but for the perishable women and girls." There are in all 65 laws in the U. S. limiting the working hours of males and compelling their employers to safeguard male workers from accident or laboring under unsanitary conditions. Do you suppose these male workers could have secured any one of these protecting laws without the ballot? No! History proves the contrary. There is now a federal law limiting the working hours of men to eight hours, but it is only in equal suffrage states where there has been any legislation in regard to working hours or sanitary labor conditions for women.

Women are one-half of society. If one-half of society is not represented in our law making bodies then one-half of society is in a state of serfdom. Then how can mothers, in a state of serfdom, be fit to breed sons who are to be free born? Political freedom, by means of the ballot, is the only uplift from serfdom, and the only means of remedying the many legal injustices to women now existing under our man made laws. But some will say that all women do not want the ballot. Do you not know that there are more women in the United States today asking for the ballot than there have been men who ever asked for anything in the whole history of the world?

Perhaps you say that all this talk about women in industries has nothing to do with my situation here in Marion. How then can the ballot benefit me, a wife, a mother and home maker down here in Marion?

Do you think I did not hear the cries of 147 of my sisters buried to death in the top floor of a New York factory building, whose owner provided no fire escapes, and then locked the doors—and that man goes unpunished? Do I not know the pain of my sisters, creeping on their bruised knees across cranberry bogs, tearing their fingers on oyster shucking beds, toiling hours in humid limited air of cotton mills? I have not forgotten the recent investigations into the condition of department store employees and the facts made public by the press of the superhuman efforts by those girls to preserve health and safeguard chastity with the pitiful underpay they received for their overlong drudgery.

It is in answer to these cries that I want the ballot for my filled with tobacco smoke and flies sisters. For myself, I want the ballot, because my highest ambition in life is to be a good wife, a good mother and a good homemaker, and I realize that I can be a better wife, a better mother and a better homemaker with the ballot than without it.

As a homemaker I am held responsible for the cleanliness of my house, the wholesomeness of my food. But if I keep my own house clean and my neighbors live in filth, how can I prevent my house from being filled with bad air which may be laden with germs of infectious diseases?

I may cook well, but if dealers are permitted to sell me unclean milk, stale eggs or poisonous canned goods, if the butchers are allowed to slaughter meat in foul uncleanly slaughter pens, and then drag this meat through dusty streets and germ laden atmosphere, if meat is allowed to be exposed on butcher's tables in a shop that I want the ballot for my filled with tobacco smoke and flies sisters. For myself, I want the ballot, because my highest ambition in life is to be a good wife, a good mother and a good home-

I may keep my child cleanly but if he goes out into the world and returns to me contaminated in body and soul, have I done all that was required of me if I have only done my duty as men see it, or as a former generation conceived it? Do I not know that so long as there remains in the community one foul spot or one evil condition that I have done nothing to remedy, then I have not fulfilled my whole mother's duty? But I alone cannot make these things right, neither could I with the help and influence of other women, without the use of the same instrument men use when they want things righted. This instrument is the ballot—the right to vote for the officials of my city government, the trustees of my children's school, the legislators who pass laws binding upon women as well as men—to be obeyed by women as well as men—and who regulate taxes demanded of all property holders, be they men or women.

Why would Jack Spratt eat no fat?

Simply because she didn't lean that way!

Jack Spratt would eat no fat, his wife would eat no lean! So thus between the two of them they'd eat a meat shop clean! The long and short of it is, that we have the fat and lean of it!

WILLIAM OWEN AS "ROBERT"

William Owen Heads Company of Artists Producing William Rann Kennedy's Great Play

THE introduction by the Redpath Chautauqua for this season of a modern play will set a new precedent throughout the Chautauqua world. Heretofore all such productions under Redpath management have been limited to the literature of Shakespeare and Goldsmith.

The play to be produced, "The Servant in the House," written by Charles Rann Kennedy. William Owen will head the company of artists, and the author, Mr. Kennedy, will assist Mr. Owen in the coaching of the cast prior to its tour upon the Chautauqua circuit.

The Redpath by paying a large royalty holds exclusive right for the Chautauqua production of this play in both the United States and Canada. "The Servant in the House" contains a story that goes to the fundamentals and so touches the common heart. It depicts the love of a father for his child, carrying that love through his poverty, degradation and bitterness. The child, when too young to realize her father's condition, has been placed in comfortable circumstances, but her heart still cries for her father as her father's cries for her. How that love like a magnet draws them together is beautifully told in the play. Like a song of praise through the play moves the figure of Manson, the embodiment of the ideal vision of love and truth toward which the world, in spite of wars, sorrow and poverty, is slowly moving.

William Owen, who heads the company of artists who are to present "The Servant in the House" on the Lyceum platform the coming season under Redpath management, was for twelve years at the head of his own company. He has selected the players for this cast from among actors of experience whom he has known for Shylock, Benetick, Iago and Othello, years. Mr. Owen is also known in the educational circles. He has addressed lectures and in the famous dramas of a very large per cent of all the best plays, high schools and women's clubs. He has played the part of David Garrick in "David Garrick" and Ingomar in "Ingomar." For two weeks he played a leading role with Julia Morrison in "Faust." He took Mr. Morrison's part in this play for six months. Since he was twenty-two he has appeared in nothing but leading roles. In Shakespearean productions New York. With Donald Robertson he ap-

Pallaria and His Great Band to Be Here Chautauqua Week

In response to overwhelming demand the fifth day of the Redpath Chautauqua week this year will be Band Day. Francesco Pallaria and his great band will render two programs, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Francesco Pallaria began his musical career in Italy, the land of the natural born musician. At the age of nine years he was attending the Milan Conservatory. At nineteen he graduated and soon after became soloist on the violin in one of the bands of the city of Milan. He has played in many of the large cities of the United States.

How To Keep Husbands.

[Boston Globe]

Wives, according to the statistics of a survey made in Chicago by the Bureau of Public Welfare stand a relatively small chance of being deserted—

If they are big physically; if they are good cooks; if they are sweet tempered, helpful, interested, affectionate and loyal; if they have children.

Abandonment on the other hand, is an ever-present peril to wives who—are weak physically and unhealthily; extravagant, shrewish and untidy; critical and gossiping; not anxious for children.

Figures do lie, but not always.

One way to a man's heart is through his stomach, undoubtedly, and admittedly a bunch of babies helps to tie him fast at home.

Predict Wet Summer.

Old people who watch signs in determining the weather for the future are confident that we are to have a wet summer, says the Uniontown Telegram. Their predictions are based on the fact that the crawfish are not building mounds this spring, but end the holes in which they make their homes abruptly at the top of the ground. This sign is relied upon absolutely by many old people and according to them is unfailing. It is known that the weather is to be dry the crawfish build high mounds. From the fact that they have no mounds up to this spring it is indicated that the summer will be exceedingly wet.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly telling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. absence of diplomatic relations. The Washington government has instructed its embassies in Vienna and Rome, saying such inquiries presupposing war would be improper for him to answer.

It is regarded here as absurd that if Italy and Austria declare a state of war, it will be extended also as between Italy and Germany and Turkey. In that event the Rome Government wishes the American Ambassadors at Berlin and Constantinople to take over its diplomatic interests. As yet there has been request from Germany to have the United States act for it in Rome. Germany is reported to have asked Switzerland to take her into her interests.

Secretary Bryan refused to discuss the addition of the Italian and Austrian interests to those cared for by American Embassies in Vienna and Rome.

Information received here recently has tended to indicate Italy's entrance into the European conflict and the opening of Parliament is expected to develop clearly Italy's interests in the war.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Because of Terrible Backache. Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1025 Doughton St., Nicetown, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABEL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

Woman.

The dearest, sweetest gift to man,
That nature ever gave;
His comforter and worshipper,
His angel and his slave;
She's sunlight, moonlight, starlight,
She's music, flower and song,
And ev'ry faith and hope and love
And joy to her belong;
And ev'ry beauty rare, and grace
Around her jealous throng;
She's nature's masterpiece and pride,
And art's divinity beside,
And naught, in all creation wide,
So content, pure and true,
But who on earth or who in hell,
Or even in heaven itself can tell
Just when she's going to take a spell,
Or what she's going to do?

AN ARGUMENT FOR STATE-WIDE

Revenue From Vice.

Some plead that our cities need the revenue from the liquor traffic. Would you be willing to accept revenue from licensing slavery, lottery, polygamy, the opium traffic, gambling, and prostitution? No nation that derives its revenues from the vices of its people can hope for permanent prosperity.

For every dollar of revenue we secure from the traffic we pay twenty dollars to support the traffic and its victims. According to the United States Supreme Court we are richer without this revenue; for it has said: "If a loss of the revenue should accrue to the United States from a diminished consumption of ardent spirits, she will be a gainer a thousandfold, in the health, wealth and happiness of her people."—License Cases vs. Howard

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body. In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown. To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

The tree had a hollow limb in the top which was found to be full of honey. Mr. Riley and his friends who have since been feasting on milk and honey, with hot biscuits and yellow butter on the side, say it is better to be born lucky than rich.

NEW PLANS FOR CHILDREN'S WORK.

To Be Followed On All Redpath Chautauquas This Season.

Dr. W. A. Colledge, director of the Educational Department of the Redpath Chautauquas, announces a change which is to be made in the children's work during the present season. A method has been adopted for presenting stories, folk dancing and games to children in a more systematic manner.

On the first day the young women in charge of this work at each Chautauqua will tell Indian folk tales and teach the children a few of the simple folk dances of the Indians. On the second day there will be Russian folk tales and Russian folk dancing; on the third day German folk tales and dances and on the fourth day Scandinavian folk tales and dances.

The children's workers will also be ready to give to the parents in each community two informal tales on such subjects as "The Place of the Story in the Education of a Child" and "The Value of Play in the Moral Development of Children."

NOW HER FRIENDS HARDLY KNOW HER

But This Does Not Bother Mrs. Burton, Under the Circumstances.

Houston, Texas.—In an interesting letter from this city, Mrs. S. C. Burton writes as follows: "I think it is my duty to tell you what your medicine, Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done for me.

I was down sick with womanly trouble, and my mother advised several different treatments, but they didn't seem to do me any good. I lingered along for three or four months, and for three weeks, I was in bed, so sick I couldn't bear to have any one to walk across the floor.

My husband advised me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic. I have taken two bottles of Cardui, am feeling fine, gained 15 pounds and do all of my housework. Friends hardly know me, I am so well."

If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, don't allow the trouble to become chronic. Begin taking Cardui to-day. It is purely vegetable, its ingredients acting in a gentle, natural way on the weakened womanly constitution. You run no risk in trying Cardui. It has been helping weak women back to health and strength for more than 50 years. It will help you. At all dealers.
